Objective

The Gulf of California Fund (FGC, acronym in Spanish) aims to conserve the Gulf of California's network of representative marine-coastal ecosystems by channeling resources to initiatives in protected areas (PAs) and their areas of influence.

Lines of work

- 1 Use of territorial management tools.
- 2 Sustainable use.
- 3 Conservation of priority species.
- 4 Conservation of ecosystems and natural resources in priority marine-coastal PAs of the Gulf of California and the North Pacific.

Achievements

150 initiatives funded to strengthen PAs.

30 endangered species supported, including the gray whale.

1,179 personas people benefited.

Data updated at the end of 2022.
